Location: Morrisville, NW Cary pkwy and Chapel Hill Rd

Description: I saw this poor dog running across this busy intersection at about 12:45pm today. Dog seemed skinny and skittish. No collar. Dark brindle coloration (black and brown) with no obvious other colors. I would guess about 40 lbs- roughly size of a small german sheep hard but very thin. Last seen running towards the Trader Joe's at the shopping mall at that intersection. I immediately called Wake Co Animal Control to see if they could catch him/her and not sure the outcome but figured if anyone is looking for that pet, they'll have this extra sighting and know that WCAC possibly captured him?
