

Found Pet

Breed/Type: Yorkshire Terrier

Gender: Female

Age: Adult

Reward: no

Location: Louisburg, Somewhere in Louisburg

Description: This dog was found yesterday in Louisburg by my son on a job site, she was covered in mud. She is very sweet, house broken, does not appear to have missed many (if any) meals, she is healthy looking, loves to ride in a vehicle, good around children and it doesn't seem like it has been that long since she had a hair cut. If anyone knows someone who may be missing her, please let me know. I have not had a chance to take her and see if she has a microchip, but will do my very best to get that done tomorrow.
